ORGANIC

Organic certified wines with a clean, crisp varietal personality

- The name Catanga refers to the ancient, small traditional stone huts where grapes were stored
- The stony soil also leads to high quality, crisp, mineral wines
- Outstanding organic wines for the price that we selected only after tasting hundreds
- One of the largest organic vine growing projects in Europe

Where it comes from

- La Mancha in central Spain, offering unbeatable value-for-money
- The winery owns over 4,300 ha of vineyard, making it one of Europe's largest organic wine projects
- The vines are no more than 15km from the winery, at an average altitude of 725 metres
- Dry conditions and poor stony soils over limestone are ideal for producing healthy grapes without the need for chemical pesticides
- An extreme continental climate provides plenty of sunshine for ripening the grapes with lower night time temperatures to retain acidity
